DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Claims 21 and 23 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form. The intended use does not further limit an article.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claims 2 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
4. Claim 2, contains improper Markush language. Proper Markush language is "selected from the group consisting of". It ha to be used when the last conjunction is "and". Always. Without exception. In claim 8, the number "20" after the period is superfluous.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir.

1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-23 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of copending Application No. 2004/0197561. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the application states that the intended use of the particles is blending them with polyamide.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1 and 11-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Unitika Ltd. JP-8-134345.

9. Unitika discloses melt kneading polyamide, polyphenylene ether and swelling fluorine mica in the Abstract. The dimensions of the mica are inherent in the composition. Applicants' claims are not novel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

12. Claims 1-9 and 11-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Unitika Ltd. JP-8-134345, in view of Miyoshi et al. 2001/0031831.

13. Unitika has been discussed already. Miyoshi et al. teach Polyamide and polyphenylene ether in claim 1, carbon black in claim 11, mica in paragraph 0066, carbon fiber in paragraphs 0067-0068, styrenic resins in paragraphs 0076-0087 and maleic anhydride modified polymers in paragraph 0088. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art; at the time the invention was made, to add the ingredients of Miyoshi et al. to the composition of Unitika, since they are composed of similar ingredients. The dimensions of the mica are standard and as such, obvious.

14. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kaneka Corporation WO 99/23162, with Suzuki 6,583,208 serving as its English translation, or Suzuki et al. 2004/0024139, in view of Miyoshi et al. 2001/0031831.

15. Suzuki ('208) reveals swellable mica in column 6, lines 10-33, dimensions in column 3, lines 37-65 and column 4, lines 1-28. Polyethers can be found in column 16, lines 32-35, styrenic polymers and maleic anhydride modified polymers in column 20, lines 55-64 and polyamide in column 21, line 3. Suzuki et al. ('129) divulge swellable mica with its dimensions in paragraphs 0036-0044 and 00650073, polyethers in paragraphs 0053-0056 and styrenic polymers, maleic anhydride modified polymers and polyamide in paragraph 0099. Miyoshi et al. has been discussed already. Applicants' claims are not novel. In the alternative, it would have been obvious to select applicants' polymers from a list of equivalents and to use the carbon black and carbon fibers of Miyoshi et al. as the pigments and reinforcements in the compositions of the primary references, because the respective compositions are similar. Since the certified English translation of the priority documents have not been submitted the effective filing date of the instant application is 7/23/03.
